PASADENA, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May 16, 2016-- Green Dot Corporation (NYSE:GDOT) (the "Company") is pleased to announce that Glass Lewis, a leading independent proxy advisory firm, supports Green Dot's Chairman and CEO, Steven W. Streit. Glass Lewis recognized the Company's strong and improving performance and significant stock price increase year-to-date. Green Dot urges stockholders to vote on the WHITE proxy card "FOR" the reelection of Green Dot's highly-qualified and experienced director nominees Steven W. Streit, Timothy R. Greenleaf and Michael J. Moritz.

In order to facilitate the Glass Lewis recommendation FOR George Gresham, the Board has agreed to appoint Mr. George Gresham, subject to his acceptance, irrespective of the outcome at the 2016 Annual Meeting of Stockholders.

The Company has also committed to additional corporate governance changes, including:

1. The Board of Directors has agreed to separate the role of Chairman and Chief Executive Officer after the 2016 Annual Meeting of Stockholders and will appoint an independent Chairman.
2. The Board of Directors will submit to stockholders a proposal to amend its certificate of incorporation to declassify the Board of Directors at the 2017 Annual Meeting of Stockholders.

The 2016 ballot contains a stockholder proposal for the adoption of majority voting in uncontested election, which the Board of Directors fully supports. The Company previously announced it will adopt Proxy Access for the 2017 Annual Meeting of Stockholders. The Company also implemented a performance-based incentive compensation policy for the CEO and NEOs that both of the major proxy advisory firms endorsed.

The Board of Directors issued the following statement:

"We have met and talked with many of our largest stockholders and we have carefully considered the opinions expressed in the recent proxy advisory firms' reports. We are taking decisive steps to further improve our corporate governance, demonstrating our accountability to stockholders and our willingness to take action. We are confident that the Company's Six-Step Plan is working as demonstrated in part by the Company's strong first quarter financial results, new product launches, and increased 2016 financial guidance as reported on the first quarter earnings call. Management is committed to executing the Six-Step Plan that will drive significant earnings growth through 2017 and we believe investors agree as demonstrated by the substantial increase in our share price since these initiatives became public. At the same time, the Board remains committed to holding management accountable for delivering the performance improvements outlined in the Six-Step Plan."

"We are also pleased that Glass Lewis recognizes the importance of Mr. Streit, as critical to Green Dot's future growth and continued success. Notably, Glass Lewis clearly distinguishes that our stock price improvement is more heavily tied to the Company's fundamental business performance, and not Harvest's public filings. In addition, Glass Lewis highlighted the enhancement of the Board based on the three strong additional directors who were appointed in April 2016."

"We respect Glass Lewis' recommendation regarding Mr. George Gresham. In order to facilitate this recommendation, the Board has agreed to appoint Mr. Gresham, subject to his acceptance, irrespective of the outcome of the vote at the 2016 Annual Meeting of Stockholders. We are confident stockholders realize the strength and experience of Green Dot's nominees, Mr. Steven W. Streit, Mr. Timothy R. Greenleaf and Mr. Michael J. Moritz, and their key functional expertise, and invaluable business and regulatory relationships. They are clearly the best candidates to oversee the continued execution of Green Dot's Six-Step Plan and we therefore urge stockholders to vote on the WHITE proxy card "FOR" their reelection."

In its report, Glass Lewis said:

- "...we aren't supportive of Harvest's campaign to remove Mr. Streit as CEO and current leader of Green Dot – an action which doesn't appear to us to be warranted or advisable at this time."
- "...we also see evidence supporting the board's argument that Green Dot is now headed in the right direction, specifically in view of the Company's most recent strong and improving performance, which despite Harvest's continued critiques, has helped propel the Company's stock price 41% higher year-to-date, compared to virtually no gains among the Prepaid Peer Group."
- "...we also note that Green Dot's stock price does not appear to have been materially impacted by Harvest's statements on any particular day, at least not to the same extent as the Company's press releases with respect to underlying business performance. To that point, we see that most of the recent trading and price activity in Green Dot's stock appears to be more heavily tied to the Company's fundamental business performance rather than the Dissident's public filings during the post-13D period."

- "...we take note of the 'pro-investor' governance changes recently implemented by the board, including with respect to the adoption of proxy access...and the attempt to re-engineer compensation for all NEOs in order to be entirely performance-based...we believe investors are well served by frequent and direct displays of the board's willingness to respond to clear investor mandates ..."
- "All three of the recent appointees, Messrs. Brewster, Date and Jacobs, appear to be strong additions to the Green Dot board, bringing applicable experience from their roles as the former CFO of Cardtronics, the first deputy director of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau ("CFPB") and a director of FinTech companies, and a former MasterCard executive and the chairman of Global Payments."
- "Mr. Streit -- and the board as a whole -- defends his record by attributing the bulk of the Company's poor performance to various factors mostly out of management's control, though Mr. Streit and the board have acknowledged some missteps. As this narrative goes, Green Dot, having endured an extremely challenging period of intensified competition, business development and regulatory challenges, is now positioned to achieve growth and improved profitability. In our view, the Company's recent communications and performance results, which have propelled the stock price higher, lend credence to this view."

Green Dot urges stockholders to vote on the WHITE proxy card "FOR" the reelection of Green Dot's highly-qualified and experienced director nominees Steven W. Streit, Timothy R. Greenleaf and Michael J. Moritz. Green Dot advises shareholders not return the "green" proxy card, even to withhold on Harvest's nominees.

- Steven W. Streit – Founder, CEO and one of Green Dot's top shareholders with more than 8 percent ownership, inventor of the reloadable prepaid debit card and primary relationship holder with major business partners and key regulators.
- Timothy R. Greenleaf – Audit Committee Chair; oversees Enterprise Risk Management Committee and Cybersecurity, key relationships with bank regulators and auditors.
- Michael J. Moritz – Large Green Dot shareholder and current Chairman of Sequoia Capital, prominent technology company board experience, currently serves on the board of LinkedIn (~$17 billion market capitalization), prior board member of Google, Yahoo, Kayak and PayPal.
